FOURTH CELEBRATED AT LIBERTY

The glorious Fourth was fittingly celebrated at Liberty, and even the rain could not put a damper on the enthusiasm of those present. There was a good program, plenty to eat and the day was well enjoyed by all who attended. The program follows: Invocation by Stephen Caton; address of welcome by D. C. Waters; reading of the Declaration of Independence by M. E. Webb; comments on the Declaration of Independence, by J. L. Shultz; oration by L. B. Valentine on "The Fourth of July"; address by Rev. J. K. P. Baxter on "Celebration of the Fourth and Why"; and an address by Prof. H. R. Easterly on "Educational Progress of our Country." The program was interspersed with music, and further the afternoon there were a number of contests, in which the younger set participated.

LEGISLATURE IN A NUTSHELL

The appropriation bill passed included the $500 salary grab. Gov. Hooper discovers that the State has appropriated $1,200,000 more than revenue of the State. Uncertain whether State's credit has been protected or not. Appropriation bill to be returned to the legislature by the governor.

MUSICAL TREAT IS PROMISED THURSDAY

The Balmorian Ladies Quartette will appear at the Opera House this evening (Thursday) for the benefit of the Tennis and Glee Clubs of the Woman's Improvement club. These ladies are all graduates of the Maryville college and have sung together for the past four years. Miss Stivers the first soprano, is soloist at the First Methodist church, Chattanooga and comes to Newport highly recommended. Miss Vera Hall, second soprano, is well known in Newport and is a talented musician, both as a vocalist and pianist. Misses Bryan and Patton the first and second altos are equally gifted. Miss Patton is a reader of note. She is a sister of Miss Norma Patton who has been heard here. The program will consist of quartettes, Trios piano numbers and readings and is sure to be one which Newport people will be pleased to hear. The admission will be 25 general or 35 for the reserved seats.

Misses Margaret and Roberta Hickey of Knoxville are the much admired guests of Mrs. John Stanbery:

RURAL CARRIERS' SALARIES INCREASED

Advance From $900 to $1000 Per Year Became Effective Saturday.

Beginning Saturday the salaries of rural free delivery carriers all over the United States are increased from $900 to $1000 per year. Every rural free delivery man who has a full route gets the increase and this includes almost all of them.

The rural free delivery carriers are expecting $1,200 before a great while. A bill to this effect was introduced in the last congress but has not yet been favorably acted upon. The carriers get fifteen days vacation with pay each year and this will likely be increased to thirty. They work from six to seven hours a day and their route are about twenty-five miles in length. They are required to furnish their own conveyances and are under civil service.

IN HONOR OF TWO KNOXVILLE GUESTS

The Misses Lillie Lyon and Gertrude Cash of Knoxville have come in for much attention during their visit here, and last week were the guests of honor at a charming party given by the Misses Ruth and Alma Ailey at their home near town. A number of the younger set attended. On the night of the Fourth a big dance was given at the Sanatorium by Mrs. Wilfred Masters, two score young people attending. It was easily one of the most enjoyable events of the season, Mrs. Masters entertaining in her usual charming manner.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT TRAIN HERE JULY 8

The Southern Railway's special "Road Improvement Train" now touring the South in the interest of the good roads movement will be in Newport, Saturday, July 8 at 2 p. m. to give a demonstration of the importance of good roads and how to build them and keep them in repair.

With exhibits, working models, and the aid of a stereopticon, two road building experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, Messrs. D. H. Winslow and W. N. Fairbanks will conduct free lectures which are sure to be of interest to the farmer at a loss how to improve his road.

Thesecond car is filled with exhibits and working models, where the road machinery will be shown in actual operation. The visitor learns not only what materials are best to use in the building or improvement of road, but how the road is built and kept in repair at the smallest necessary cost.

In the lecture car views are shown picturing all the advantages of good roads and some of the disadvantages of bad ones. A view of especial interest is that showing two wagons loaded for market, one from a bad road territory and the other from a good road territory, the difference in weight showing the profits and losses that come from good and bad roads. Pictures of some of the finest roads of the world, notably those of France, are projected upon a screen, and the entire exhibition is one that will prove attractive to the person not actively interested in such movements, drawing them by reason of the novel exhibit and probably sending them away with the feeling that after all the good roads problem is one that concerns each individual no matter in what walk of life.

The train, which began its tour at Mobile May 1, has met with a cordial reception in Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and points in northern Georgia, and on every hand there has been heard the most favorable expressions as to the public spirit of the Southern Railway in sending it out over its lines without charge to the government or the people.

The itinerary includes the entire territory served by the Southern Railway and affiliated lines, and the tour will last until October, coming to a close during a good roads convention to be held in Richmond. The train enters North Carolina next week.

Besides the two government experts, the train is accompanied by W. J. Hurlbut, of the Land and Industrial Department of the Southern Railway. The men are equipped from wide experience to give the most valuable information as to good roads and their improvement and it is hoped that all citizens of Newport and surrounding section will be present to hear their lectures and take advantage of the instructive exhibit.

Reassuring.

Nervous Party—The train seems to be traveling at a fearful pace, ma'am. Elderly Female—Yus, ain't it? My Bill's n-drivin' of the engine, an' 'e can make 'er go when 'e's got a drop o' drink in 'im.—Tit-Bits.

How She Got Him.

"How did she ever get him, I wonder?"

"You see, another girl had just broken his heart, and she happened to be where she could render first aid to the injured."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Our Principal Excitement.

"You don't have any earthquakes or periodic upheavals in America." "No; a roller skating craze breaks out about every ten years."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Anything Would Do.

"I don't want you for a son-in-law." "Perhaps you have some other good position you could give me."—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

No More "Ticket-of-Leave" Men.

The old ticket-of-leave system has at last gone altogether. Henceforth the discharged convict really anxious to make a clean start will not be brought into direct contact with the police. Up to now the convict has been supervised by the police on the one hand and cared for by various philanthropic societies on the other. The new scheme is to combine into a central body the societies which have hitherto aided discharged prisoners and to give this body authority to deal with the convicts and funds to carry on the work. This body will be responsible for the convicts whose interests it serves, and the police will have no more dealings with discharged prisoners so long as they keep from further crime.—London Saturday Review.

A Dangerous Garment.

Mrs. Jasper—Mrs. Turnley has given her hobble skirt away. She was afraid to have it around.

Mrs. Davis—It nearly strangled her cook the other day.

Mrs. Davis—How?

Mrs. Jasper—The ignorant girl tried it on upside down, and the small part got around her neck.—Woman's Home Companion.

Happy Ending.

Gunner—Yes, Bilkins was the shiest bachelor you ever saw. That is why they introduced him to Miss De Flash. She was a sort of hint to matrimony, you know?

Guy—And how did it end? Gunner—Oh, he took the hint.—Chicago News.

Wiredrawn.

"Bobby, you mustn't make fun of the young man who comes to see Myrtle. He is not so awfully thin." "Ain't he, maw? When he crosses one leg over the other both feet rest on the floor."—Chicago Tribune.

"The Mattress of the Present and Future"

Ostermoor

Every other mattress in the world is STUFFED—hair, cotton or feathers, jammed in at the open end of a tick. That's why lumps and holes soon cause sleepless nights. Each OSTERMOOR is built—not stuffed. Hand laid sheets of downy softness, each full sized, are carefully built within the tick. It is vermin proof. An occasional sun bath is all it requires. The tick can be taken off and washed when soiled.

ROADMAN'S Ten-Day Specials

Here are things you need now at prices not found anywhere else. They are good for every day this week and the goods are first class in every way.

You may get them, if you comply with the proposition made below. Positively we will not deviate from this proposition.

Here it is—We will sell you any goods named below at prices quoted, provided you buy an equal amount of other goods. For instance, if you want one dollar's worth of sugar we will expect you to buy the same amount of dry goods, shoes, or other goods. If you do not care to do this, we do not care to sell you the goods advertised below.

Granulated Sugar, per pound	5 1-4c
Arbuckle's Coffee, per pound	20c
Fruit Jar Rubbers, per dozen	2 1-2c
Matches, Largest Boxes, 3 for	10c
Jelly Glasses, Largest Size	2 1-2c
Five-cent Blueing, 3 for	5c
Loose Soda, per pound	2c
Bruton's Snuff, Large Size, 2 for	15c
Clothes Pins, 3 dozen for	5c

I have a larger stock of goods now than I have ever carried. At this season we can get a great many things under value from the wholesale houses that are changing their lines to Winter goods, and you will find my prices in nearly every case lower than the other merchants who bought their stocks at the beginning of the Summer season. Don't forget that we sell shoes cheaper than the other stores. This is the home of sample shoes—wear better—cost less.
